RE: July 01, 2013 – License Renewal and Licensing Requirements

June 30, 2013 was the expiration date for tobacco licenses issued to manufacturers, importers and distributors. Retail dealer licenses that do not have an expiration date later than June 30, 2013 are also expired. Tobacco licensees should have accessed and renewed on-line via the Georgia Tax Center (<https://gtc.dor.ga.gov/#1>). If you have not renewed and/or your license does not indicate an expiration date later than June 30, 2013, you are not authorized to continue purchases or sales of tobacco products until such time as you obtain a valid license and post it at your business location.

In the event you have renewed and have not received a license OR you have attempted to renew and encountered challenges, please contact us at 1.877.423.6711 for research assistance and verification. You may also email atdiv@dor.ga.gov.

Our goal wherever possible is to insure uninterrupted business however, businesses are not authorized to continue sales until they are properly licensed to do so. Your timely assistance in insuring resolution is greatly appreciated.
